Racial Abilities

Attacked last - Kobolds are notorius for their cowardice and ineffectiveness in combat. Consequently, enemies are likely to dismiss the character as a negligible threat and concentrate their attacks on other, more impressive, members of the character's party unless the character displays some unusual prowess, powerful magic, or skill.
Infravision - The character has infravision to 60 feet.

Class Abilities

Mage
Hit point bonus - d6 used for Hit Point die.
Schools of Magic - Alteration, Conjuration/Summoning, Enchantment/Charm, Illusion/Phantasm, Invocation/Evocation, Necromancy

Traits

Glibness - A sucessful Wisdom/Intuition check allows the character to talk an NPC out of an action.
Internal Compass (Underground) - Characters with this trait have a general idea of where they are, and in which direction they are facing when underground. In subterranean environments, this means that their chance of becoming lost is reduced by 5%. When using the navigation proficiency, characters with this trait receive a +1 bonus to their proficiency score.

Disadvantages

Colorblind - Character sees only in shades of grey.
Phobia: Crowds - Each time the character is presented with their phobia, they must make a Wisdom/Willpower check every 2d6 rounds they are exposed to it. If failed, the character must flee the source of the phobia for 1d6 rounds, and must make another check. All checks are made at half ability score if the phobia is severe.
